We are pleased to inform you that DeAngelo Contracting Services ("DCS") and DBi Services ("DBi") have signed a letter of intent regarding the sale of substantially all of DBi's assets to DCS, excluding its Digital Traffic Systems business, which provides intelligent transportation systems and traffic data collection solutions and services. We are interested in working with you to perform the duties previously carried out by DBi under your contract.

DeAngelo Contracting Services is headquartered in Hazleton, Pennsylvania, and currently provides maintenance services to commercial and state DOT customers. We are well positioned to onboard employees who were previously servicing your contracts and to provide the necessary equipment and quality management to execute the responsibilities of your contract. We will have full control over all of DBi's fleet and equipment.

DCS is a separate company from DBi with separate ownership. DCS is owned and operated by the DeAngelo Family - the original founder of DBi Services - who sold DBi in 2016. We operate DCS as a family-owned business who puts both customers and employees first.

As you may know, the DeAngelo family has a 40+ history of customer service in the maintenance industry, and we look forward to serving you as a valued customer. We will be in close contact as we work towards a final agreement with DBi, which we expect to be finalized in the next few days. Thereafter, we will do everything we can to make this a smooth transition.

Sincerely,

Paul DeAngelo and the DeAngelo Family

Founder – DeAngelo Contracting Services
