

LaTonya Lipscomb Smith (Ethics Commission)

LaTonya Lipscomb Smith is owner and sole practitioner of Lipscomb Smith Law, located in downtown Jacksonville, FL. Ms. Lipscomb Smith is licensed in both Florida and Georgia. She practices in the area of Probate and Estates, Family Law and Criminal Law. She has been honored with the Outstanding Pro Bono Service Award for her pro bono work by Jacksonville Legal Aid (2016 – 2018).

In addition to practicing law, Ms. Lipscomb Smith is an adjunct professor at Edward Waters College. She enjoys sharing her passion for law with young minds in courses such as Juvenile Law, The Color of Law and Business Law. In 2018, she was awarded Distinguished Adjunct Faculty of the Year.

Ms. Lipscomb Smith enjoys working with voluntary bars and local non-profit organizations. She has served on the executive board of the D. W. Perkins Bar Association. She is a member of the Diversity Inclusion Committee with The Florida Bar. Furthermore, Ms. Lipscomb Smith serves on the Advisory Council of Empowerment Resources, Inc. and is a Community Partner with the Annie Ruth Foundation. Both organizations work with youth to be a catalyst for positive change in underserved communities.

In her spare time, Ms. Lipscomb Smith enjoys traveling, reading and spending quality time with family and friends.